H. E. Epstine, as the close of business today, moved his brokerage office to a location below his former office, in the building formerly occupied by Dale Brothers, which has been remodeled. He will be open for business in his new location Monday morning.

Without giving any previous notice to their many friends, Miss Edith G. Edwards and State Senator W. P. Harrington slipped off quietly last night to the rectory of the Episcopal church, and there the ceremony was performed by Rev. Lloyd B. Thomas that made them man and wife. Only the immediate relatives of the bride were present. Congratulations are extended.—Appeal.

UNIVERSITY RADIO STATION

The engineering department of the University of Nevada has ordered material for an aerial which is to be over 450 feet in height. The plans of the faculty include the establishment of similar stations in high schools of the state so that direct benefit can be derived from the study of wireless. Communication with all parts of the state would thus be obtained. The power stations in Elko county have been equipped with apparatus for receiving and sending wireless messages.

Just arrived. Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes for summer. Give us a call.

THINK THE LADIES ARE NOT MANAGERS?

LEAP YEAR BALL AT THE ELKS' HOME WAS ONE GLORIOUS BIG SUCCESS

Talk about your bloomin' dawncies, that was it last evening. The Elks held it and the ladies took it away from them. A leap year party it was advertised to be and it was. A lot of the boys in clammers clustered in the smoking room before the music began and "lofted" at the idea of their feminine guests taking the initiative, or, to say the least, keeping it. But they were darn good mistaken. Most of all was Charley Blumenthal, who feared that he would not get a single dance unless he himself made the proposal, but he was agreeably surprised when he found his card filled before the first encore.

The most chagrined individuals were Doc Grigaby, Harry Atkinson, Jim Pike, Tom Walker and Jack Sherwin. They were certain that if the ladies were to do the inviting they would be able to train down to weight before "Home, Sweet Home" was played, but they got their good and plenty. It seems that some sort of a combine was put up by the girls on these lady killers, for they rested their uneasy heads against the wall paper, crossing the right over the left, then the left over the right and back again the entire evening, except when they made solemn pilgrimages in the direction of the punch bowl.

As to them females, they showed splendid diplomacy and executive qualities and there were not less than seventy-five of them working concertedly. One was a matron of quite a few summers. She has grown some and daughters, although herself still comely and possessed of a most pleasing personality and gift of conversation. She declared herself to her husband upon entering the hall: "See those young blades over there. If they had the initiative tonight I would have only you to dance with. Now watch we cut those pullets out."

True to her word, she singled out the gallants who were waiting for the debutantes and she danced with every one of them so often that hubby got his breakfast at the Mizpah this morning. Yes, it was some real time.

St. Patrick's Church—There will be three masses tomorrow, first at 5:15 a. m., second at 8 a. m., third at 10 a. m. Sunday school at 1 p. m. In the evening at 7:30 will take place the solemn exercise of the closing of the mission for both women and men.

Presbyterian Church—Sunday school, 10 o'clock sharp. All young people and older ones, too, are welcome at this hour. Morning worship, 11 o'clock. Sermon theme, "Fishermen." Violin and cornet solos as specials.

Y. P. C. E. 6:30. Topic, "The Consecration of Strength." Ps. 29:1-11.

Evening service, 7:30. At this hour the great question of whether the "World is growing Better or Worse," will be discussed. Views from men of world wide reputation will be given. The leading educators, statesmen, business men, publishers, editors and various others, whose opinion amounts to something. We may not alter the present course of the world movement at this service, but we can refresh ourselves with what men and women of world vision have to say upon this. Special music. Come one, Come all.

MR. ZADIG NATURALLY PLEASED WITH RESCUE

PIONEER BROKER AND MINE MAKER PAYS VISIT TO NEW STRIKE THIS MORNING

Herman Zadig, the moving spirit of the Rescue Eula, as well as other properties in the Tonopah and Goldfield districts, and the Comstock as well, dropped off the southbound train this morning, where he was met by several mining men and hurried to the Mizpah and then to the Rescue Eula, his pet property, which has been behaving so splendidly of late.

Mr. Zadig, accompanied by Mr. Sherwin and others, viewed the strike on the 950 level and noted the ore bin filled up almost as fast as the five ton truck was conveying the rock to mill. When he arrived down town Mr. Zadig was interviewed by dozens of mining men, all eager to have his opinion as to the strike. In interview with the Bonanza he said:

"It's a great pleasure to come to a place where one has interests which he has been endeavoring for a long time to develop and to find that there is at last realization of his hopes for the Rescue Eula and I must say that success. I went to the 950 level of the showing is certainly a very fine one. The Bonanza has secured most excellent and truthful accounts of the development and has not exaggerated the strike a particle. I don't care who goes down and looks at the face of the east drift. If he understands anything about a mine he must return to the surface and say that there is the making of a big body of ore there."

"It is too early to predict what will actually be developed, but certainly everyone who has seen it feels as I do that we are right at the beginning of a big development in the Eula ground."

"I am glad for all the shareholders in the Rescue Eula who have stayed with the company and have had the job in the ground that I have always had. We are about to be sharing in the fruits of our faith."

"Again I want to say that it is a pleasure to come to Tonopah under the present circumstances. We are about ready now to start drifting from the 1100 level toward the Magie May claim to try to find out if the prospect we had on the 950 will make into ore there also. In the meantime we have lots of ground to follow on the 950 in the Eula ground."

"My next hope is for the Tonopah Bonanza ground. We are now down 1200 feet and if nothing unforeseen happens we ought to be able to start prospecting in the next four months, as soon as we have attained to sufficient depth to get into the mineralized zone, for the capping is heavy in that portion of the district."

"I go to Goldfield this afternoon, where I am anxious to see the Davis Calyx drill on the Silver Pick. I consider this operation, next to the flotation process, the most important work for the Goldfield district. If the drill proves that ore exists below the 700-foot level of the Silver Pick, it will mean that there will be instant revival in all the ground near Columbia Mountain."

NOTHING TO SAY AT PRESENT

Incidental to the story published in the Reno Gazette last evening that there was soon to be a change of head made in the Industrial Insurance commission, Governor Boyle was this morning asked by an Appeal representative if the reports being circulated were true and if some action was about to be taken. He replied that he had nothing to say at present for publication.

Mr. Dresser's family will come back to Tonopah in a month or six weeks. Mr. Dresser left his machine there and will later go to National City and motor back with his family.

CAT MAY HAVE BEEN HUNGRY

Mrs. G. H. Bosch prizes more than any other thing on earth, with the possible exception of her husband, a big gray cat who answers to the name of Tonopah when it is time to eat, but is too lazy to respond to any name at other times. Tonopah acted in a peculiar manner yesterday. He would stand on his head for a second or two and then essay the vulture walk. A local surgeon was called in and the puss was subjected to minute examination. A surgical operation was next in order and a needle to which several yards of thread was attached was extracted.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE IN THE MURRAY TRIAL

After conferring until after midnight last night, the jury in the case of State vs. John J. Murray, which was tried before Justice of the Peace Dunsmuir, failed to agree and so reported to the court. When the jury was polled it was found that the vote was 11 for conviction and one for acquittal. The case will probably be retried early next week.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

A double bill will be included in tonight's program at the Butler, consisting of a two-reel Chaplin comedy entitled "His Trysting Place," which is sure to amuse all the little folks, as well as some of the larger ones, and a five-part Blue Ribbon feature entitled "The Price For Folly," in which Edith Storey appears in the role of a ballet dancer, supported by an exceptional Vitaphone cast. The theme reveals a true picture of sex instinct dominating all the finer ideas man has acquired since he emerged from his primitive state, the persistent domination of the desire to strong for humanity unprepared by self-control during the formative period. The story is both strong and consistent, and the New York Dramatic Mirror says, "It is a strong, forceful play, beautifully presented, that may at least go good one better."

Tomorrow, Mary Pickford, the world's foremost motion picture star, in one of her greatest characterizations, "Rags," which is said to be a genuine Pickford classic. This picture also comes well recommended "by an eye-witness at the front," in the name of Mr. Letson Balliet, who was kind enough to offer the information, unsolicited, that he had seen the picture on the coast and that it could not be recommended too highly. Included also in the Sunday program is the first of the Bray cartoon comedies, "Colonel Heeza Liar's Waterloo," insuring the public of a real treat in the picture line for this day.

Saturday, March 11th, the big War Picture, "Somewhere in France."
